

Albania sells explosion-proof electrical distribution boxes

Article Overview

Albania offers a range of suppliers and distributors for explosion-proof electrical distribution boxes, including both local companies and international certified products.

Local Suppliers in Albania

Several Albanian companies provide electrical distribution solutions and may supply or customize explosion-proof enclosures:

- IMPACT: Offers turnkey electrical solutions and collaborates with over 40 international manufacturers, potentially including hazardous area equipment .
- Sali Elektrik: Specializes in custom electrical panels and industrial automation, with experience in low to medium voltage supplies .
- Albalettica: A major distributor of electrical materials in Albania, providing professional consulting and a wide range of high-performance electrical products .
- ITE and Elteknik sh.p.k.: Both provide electrical distribution systems and panel building services, which may include custom solutions for hazardous areas . These companies can often source or customize ATEX/IECEx-certified distribution boxes for industrial applications.
