

Brands of Imported Optical Communication Coupling Equipment

Article Overview

Leading imported brands of optical communication coupling equipment include Lumentum, II-VI (Coherent), Hisense Broadband, O-net Communications, and C-Light Network Communication.

Key International Brands

- Lumentum Operations LLC – A major provider of optical and photonic products, including high-performance optical couplers and transceivers for telecommunications and data centers, known for agility, high speed, and reliability in optical networks .
- II-VI Incorporated / Coherent Corp. – Supplies engineered optoelectronic components and subsystems, including fiber couplers, optical modules, and photonics solutions for industrial, aerospace, and communication applications .
- Hisense Broadband Multimedia Technologies, Ltd. – Based in China, this company produces optical transceivers, terminal devices, and couplers for telecom operators and data centers, supporting GPON, EPON, and other optical interconnects .
- O-net Communications USA INC – A subsidiary of O-Net Technologies (Shenzhen), offering optical networking and communication devices, including fiber couplers and optical modules for high-performance networks .
- C-Light Network Communication – Hong Kong-based manufacturer of optical transceivers, DWDM/CWDM devices, and fiber couplers, tailored for 4G/5G networks, data centers, and optical transmission systems .
- Neptec and General Photonics – Provide fused fiber couplers, WDM couplers, and polarization-maintaining couplers for optical communication, FTTH, CATV, and fiber-optic sensing applications
