

Compatible LPOAI Server Mexican Supplier

Article Overview

Foxconn (Hon Hai) is the primary Mexican supplier capable of producing LPOAI-compatible AI servers, with large-scale facilities in Jalisco and Chihuahua dedicated to Nvidia-based systems.

Key Supplier: Foxconn (Hon Hai)

Foxconn, also known as Hon Hai Precision Industry Co., Ltd., has significantly expanded its AI server production in Mexico, making it a leading supplier for LPOAI-compatible systems. The company has invested over $500 million in multiple facilities, including a 421,600 square meter site in El Salto, Jalisco, and a large assembly plant in Chihuahua, aiming to produce Nvidia Blackwell-based servers such as the GB200 NVL72 models . These facilities are designed to meet high-demand AI server production, with a planned capacity of 20,000 servers per month .

Strategic Capabilities

- Nvidia Partnership: Foxconn is a dominant supplier to Nvidia, producing over 50% of AI server chip substrates and handling exclusive orders for GH200 and Blackwell chip modules .
- Advanced Assembly: The Mexican plants specialize in motherboard and server assembly, including complex liquid cooling solutions required for high-performance AI workloads .
- Global Integration: Foxconn's Mexican operations complement its global network i...
