

Custom Price of Energy-Saving Cable Trays between China and Africa

Article Overview

Custom energy-saving cable trays from China to Africa vary widely, typically influenced by material, design, order volume, and shipping arrangements, with suppliers offering tailored quotes upon request.

Supplier Options and Customization

Chinese manufacturers like ECTRAY and Shandong Tianhong Electric Power Technology Co., Ltd. provide fully customizable cable trays, including ladder, perforated, and wire mesh types, with energy-saving designs that improve heat dissipation and reduce electricity loss . These suppliers offer OEM/ODM services, allowing clients to specify dimensions, materials (steel, aluminum, fiberglass), and coatings for corrosion resistance and outdoor durability .

Material and Cost Considerations

- Steel trays are durable and widely used but heavier and may incur higher shipping costs.
- Aluminum trays are lightweight, corrosion-resistant, and moderately priced.
- Fiberglass trays are gaining popularity for their lightweight, non-conductive, and corrosion-resistant properties, suitable for African climates . Cable trays generally reduce installation time and labor costs compared to conduit systems, potentially saving 40-60% of total project costs due to easier cable placement and improved ventilation
