

Malaysia Cable Tray Processing Plant

Article Overview

Malaysia hosts several prominent cable tray manufacturers offering high-quality, corrosion-resistant systems for industrial and commercial applications.

Key Manufacturers and Facilities

SAN Engineering produces hot-dip galvanized (HDG) cable trays, ladders, and trunking systems using top-grade steel, stainless steel, and aluminum alloys. Their trays feature corrosion-resistant finishes such as zinc, PVC, and epoxy, designed for efficient cable routing and compliance with local and international standards like NEMA VE-1 and NEC . Array Metal, headquartered in Shah Alam, Selangor, manufactures a wide range of cable support systems including trays, ladders, trunking, and wire trays. They serve both domestic and international markets, ensuring timely delivery and reliable support for large-scale projects . United U-LI (M) Sdn Bhd operates five manufacturing sites in Malaysia, producing cable trays and integrated ceiling systems. Established in 1983, the company has expanded into steel service centers and cable tray industries, employing around 1,000 staff and maintaining a strong presence in the Malaysian market . Intralink Techno specializes in pultruded FRP/GRP cable support systems for oil & gas, power, and petrochemical industries. Their INTECH brand offers lightweight, corrosion-resistant cable ladders and trays, tested to NEMA and IEC standards, suitable for offshore and industrial applications . Megapro Industries Sdn Bhd, established in 2018, focuses on epoxy-coated mild steel cable trays, trunking, and accessories. Their state-of-the-art plant ensures customized production to meet project specifications, emphasizing durability, corrosion resistance, and timely delivery for industrial and commercial sectors
