

Price of Field Spectrometer in Kyrgyzstan

Article Overview

Field spectrometers in Kyrgyzstan typically range from $2,000 to $15,000 USD depending on specifications and brand.

Field spectrometers are portable devices used for on-site analysis of materials, and their price varies based on wavelength range, resolution, sensor type, and additional features such as software integration or ruggedized design for field use . Entry-level handheld models suitable for basic environmental or agricultural analysis generally start around $2,000–$5,000 USD, while advanced research-grade instruments with higher precision and broader spectral coverage can cost $10,000–$15,000 USD or more .

Local Suppliers in Kyrgyzstan

- Laboid International: Offers a range of spectrophotometers and laboratory instruments in Kyrgyzstan, known for precision and durability. While primarily focused on lab-based spectrophotometers, they may provide or source field spectrometers upon request .
- Aditya Systems (LADA brand): Supplies spectrometers and related instruments in Kyrgyzstan, with options for customization and on-time delivery .
- Alibaba and international suppliers: Many portable field spectrometers can be shipped to Kyrgyzstan from global suppliers, providing a wider selection of models and price points .

Recommendations

- Contact local suppliers directly to get exact pricing, shipping costs, and warranty...
