

Price of Waterproof Distribution Boxes and Cabinets

Article Overview

Waterproof distribution boxes and cabinets typically range from $20 to over $500 depending on size, material, IP rating, and features.

Price Ranges

- Small plastic IP65 boxes (suitable for 12-way DIN rail setups) generally cost $20-$50 for residential or light commercial use, offering protection against rain, dust, and UV exposure .
- Medium to large plastic or ABS enclosures with higher capacity or multiple DIN rails can range from $50-$150, often used in workshops, hotels, or small industrial setups .
- Metal-clad or industrial-grade waterproof cabinets with IP66-IP68 ratings, corrosion resistance, and modular configurations can cost $200-$500+, suitable for outdoor, marine, or heavy-duty industrial applications .

Factors Affecting Price

- Material: Plastic (ABS, polycarbonate) is lightweight and corrosion-resistant, while metal (stainless steel, galvanized steel) offers higher durability and impact resistance .
- IP Rating: Higher ingress protection (IP66-IP68) increases cost due to enhanced sealing against water, dust, and UV exposure .
- Size and Capacity: Larger enclosures with more circuits, DIN rails, or internal space for terminals are more expensive
