

Price of fluorescence spectrometer in Singapore

Article Overview

Fluorescence spectrometers in Singapore typically range from SGD 5,000 for basic models to over SGD 80,000 for high-end research-grade instruments.

Overview of Pricing

- Entry-level and compact models suitable for teaching or routine laboratory use can start around SGD 5,000 to SGD 15,000, depending on brand and features. These are often available through online marketplaces like Lazada, which offers competitive deals and multiple sellers .
- Mid-range research instruments with enhanced sensitivity, 3D fluorescence capabilities, and advanced software typically cost SGD 20,000 to SGD 50,000. These models are suitable for more precise analytical work and quality control applications .
- High-end professional systems, such as the Hitachi F-7100, designed for cutting-edge research with ultra-fast scanning, long-life light sources, and high signal-to-noise ratios, can exceed SGD 80,000, depending on configuration and accessories .

Purchasing Options in Singapore

- Distributors and specialized suppliers: Hitachi High-Tech Singapore offers a range of UV-Vis/NIR and fluorescence spectrophotometers for research and industrial applications, including models like U-4100, UH5700, and F-7100 .
- Online marketplaces: Lazada Singapore provides a variety of fluorescence spectrophotometers from multiple brands, often with promotions and fast delivery
