

Price of household high-density cable trays

Article Overview

High-density cable trays for household or small office use typically range from $8 to $30 per meter, depending on material, type, and finish.

Price Overview

The cost of cable trays varies based on material, tray type, size, and surface finish. For household or light commercial applications:

- Wire Mesh Trays: $8 – $30 per meter, ideal for IT, data centers, and flexible installations due to excellent ventilation and moderate load capacity .
- Perforated Trays: $10 – $40 per meter, suitable for general commercial use with moderate protection and airflow .
- Solid Bottom Trays: $12 – $45 per meter, providing maximum protection for sensitive cables but heavier and more expensive .
- Ladder Trays: $15 – $50 per meter, designed for heavy-duty cabling, though often overkill for household use . Material impacts cost significantly:
- Galvanized Steel (HDG): $2 – $10 per meter for standard trays; durable and corrosion-resistant for indoor/outdoor use .
- Aluminum: $8 – $20 per meter; lightweight, rust-proof, and suitable for elevated or hard-to-access areas .
- Stainless Steel: $15 – $40 per meter; highly corrosion-resistant, ideal for high-humidity or chemical-prone environments .
- Plastic (PVC/FRP): $8 – $25 per meter; budget-friendly but limited load capacity
