

Price tags for stainless steel cable trays

Article Overview

Stainless steel cable tray prices vary widely, typically ranging from $10 to $200 per linear foot depending on type, size, and stainless steel grade.

Price Overview by Tray Type

- Solid-Bottom Trays: Highest cost due to full enclosure, offering maximum protection against dust, moisture, and chemicals. Prices are generally 20-40% higher than ladder or perforated trays and are ideal for chemical plants, offshore platforms, and food processing facilities .
- Ladder-Type Trays: Moderate pricing, providing strong mechanical support with ventilation. Commonly used in power plants, substations, and industrial facilities .
- Perforated Trays: Mid-range cost, balancing airflow and structural integrity. Suitable for commercial buildings, server rooms, and HVAC systems .
- Wire Mesh Trays: Economical and lightweight, priced from low to moderate depending on mesh density. Best for data centers, telecom cabinets, and light-duty applications .

Price Factors

- Material Grade:
- 304 Stainless Steel: Most common, suitable for indoor or mildly corrosive environments.
- 316 Stainless Steel: Contains molybdenum for superior corrosion resistance, often 20-40% more expensive than 304, ideal for marine or chemical environments
