

Serbia-based fiber optic sensor manufacturer

Article Overview

Fiberopticshop is a leading Serbian supplier of fiber optic solutions, offering both custom-made and mass-produced passive fiber optic products.

Key Supplier in Serbia

Fiberopticshop is a prominent Serbian company specializing in passive fiber optic solutions. They provide products suitable for telecom networks, enterprise, and industrial applications, and offer customized solutions for utility industries. Their operations cover the full process from R&D to final quality control, ensuring certified quality standards and reliable performance for various applications (Fiberopticshop.rs) .

Additional Suppliers and Options

Several other companies and distributors serve the Serbian market for fiber optic sensors:

- AP Sensing offers distributed optical sensing technology, including distributed temperature sensing (DTS), distributed acoustic sensing (DAS), and distributed vibration sensing (DVS), suitable for long-distance monitoring and industrial applications (Environmental-Expert.com) .
- Datum Electronics specializes in precision torque, strain, and shaft power measurement, including torque-sensing optical cables, which are relevant for indust...
