

Which manufacturers specialize in custom network cabinets

Article Overview

Top manufacturers for custom network cabinets include Enconnex, MSTFAB, Saipwell, Vertiv, and APC by Schneider Electric, all offering configurable solutions with industry-standard certifications.

Leading Manufacturers

Enconnex offers highly configurable racks and cabinets, including their flagship InfiniRack, suitable for data centers, edge computing, and specialized environments. They provide custom solutions for unique equipment layouts, with options for military-grade shielding, smart server racks, and modular designs, backed by a global logistics network and 70,000 sq. ft. of manufacturing space in Reno, NV . MSTFAB specializes in custom 19-inch rack enclosures, wall-mounted network boxes, and industrial communication cabinets. They handle the full fabrication process, including laser cutting, CNC bending, welding, powder coating, and assembly. MSTFAB supports OEM buyers with design reviews, thermal and airflow optimization, and export packaging, offering materials like cold-rolled steel, stainless steel, and aluminum . Saipwell provides customizable server and network cabinets with options for stainless steel, fiberglass, or polycarbonate. Their cabinets support adjustable shelves, cable management, cooling, waterproofing, and power integration. Saipwell emphasizes compliance with NEMA, IP ratings, ISO 9001, RoHS, and UL certifications, making them suitable for both office and industrial deployments . Vertiv manufactures modular racks and cooling systems for data centers and telecom applications. Their cabinets are designed for high-density equipment, efficient airflow...
